

video conferencing, 83
 video over IP, 592–593
 video stream, 625
 virtual-circuit. See VC (virtual-circuit) virtual local area networks. See VLANs virtual private networks. See VPNs viruses, 56, 740
 visited MSC, 574
 visited networks, 557, 570
 visitor location register. See VLR VLANs (virtual local area networks), 482–486
 VLAN tag, 484–486
 VLAN trunking, 484–485
 VLR (visitor location register), 570 voice and video applications, 83 VoIP (Voice-over-IP), 83 adaptive playout delay, 615–618 end-to-end delay, 613–614
     enhancing over best-effort network, 612 fixed playout delay, 615
     jitter and audio, 614–618
     media packetization delays, 44
     packet loss, 613
     recovering from packet loss, 618–621
     sequence numbers, 615
     timestamps, 615
     wireless systems, 668
 VPNs (virtual private networks), 362 confidentiality, 720
     end points, 725
     IPsec, 718–720
     IPv4, 719
     MPLS (Multiprotocol Label Switching), 489–490
     SA (security association), 720 tunnel mode, 721
 vulnerability attacks, 57

W

Web, 64, 86, 97
     client-server application architecture, 100
     HTTP (HyperText Transfer Protocol), 98–100

    network applications, 98–116
     operating on demand, 98 platform for applications emerging after 2003, 98
     terminology, 98–99
 Web applications, 97
     client and server processes, 88 client-server architecture, 86
 Web-based e-mail, 86, 129–130
 Web browsers, 97
     client side of HTTP, 99
     GUI interfaces, 64
 Web caches, 59, 110–115
 Web client-server interaction, 499
 web of trust, 710
 Web pages, 99
     displaying, 101
     requests, 495–500
 Web proxy caches, 104
 Web servers, 89, 97
     deleting objects, 105
     initial versions, 64
     IP addresses, 392
     port numbers, 197–198
     server processes, 88
     server side of HTTP, 99
     spawning new process for connections, 198
     TCP (Transmission Control Protocol), 197–198
     uploading objects to, 105
 Web sites, 108
     anonymity, 738
     privacy, 738
 weighted fair queuing. See WFQ well-known port number, 192
 WEP (Wired Equivalent Privacy), 726–728 WFQ (weighted fair queuing), 329, 644–645 leaky bucket, 647–648
 wide-area wireless access, 18
 WiFi, 17, 52, 526–546
     high-speed, 65
     home networks, 17
     hotspots, 515, 546
     public access, 515